

An Interview study: quality improvement projects in the surgical literature

How can reporting be improved?

We would like to hear from people who:

- Write up quality improvement projects for publication in the academic literature
- Have an editorial role in journals that publish quality improvement reports
- Use quality improvement reports to guide changes in care

If you might be interested in taking part in a short telephone interview about improving the reporting of QI, please let us know.

Contact Emma Jones:

University of Leicester, Department of Health Sciences, UK
e: elj20@le.ac.uk t: 0116 252 3648  @emmajonesPhysio

www.le.ac.uk/qi-project-emma-jones

